DETAILED ACTION

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The specification should be self-contained and should not refer to the claims, as on page 2, lines 1-3. Note that the claims may be amended or cancelled. Appropriate correction is required.

2. Claims 2, 11 and 23 are objected to because of the following informalities:

It is not clear that claim 2 further limits claim 1. In particular, it is not clear that the lens can be sonicated with ultrasound (claim 1) without the ultrasonic processor emitting ultrasonic power (claim 2). Note also that "processes" in line 1 should be changed to --processor--.

It is not clear that claim 11 further limits claim 10. In particular, it is not clear that there is any difference between an ultrasonic field (claim 10) and an ultrasonic power field (11).

Regarding claim 23, it would appear that "24" should be changed to --25-- in view of page 2, paragraph 5, and claims 6 and 16.

Clarification and/or correction is required.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-2, 4, 7, 9-11, 13-14, 17-20 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bui.

Bui discloses a method of measuring the thickness of an optical lens wherein a liquid 50 is placed on the specimen 60 and the specimen is exposed to an ultrasonic field.

Regarding claim 1, delay line 30 comprises a sonotrode. Accordingly, the only difference between the claimed invention and the prior art consists in placing an ophthalmic lens in a holding container filled with a test fluid. Regarding an ophthalmic lens, it would have been obvious to use the device of Bui to measure the thickness of any type of optical lens. Regarding a holding container, it is well known in the art to immerse a specimen in a container filled with a test fluid in order to ensure liquid coupling. Accordingly, merely to select an ophthalmic lens and place it in a holding container would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art.

Regarding claims 4 and 7, the choice of a particular size and shape is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).

Regarding claim 9, it would have been an obvious design expedient to provide a sealing sleeve in order to prevent spilling.

Regarding claim 10, the only difference between the claimed invention and the prior art consists in placing an ophthalmic lens in a test liquid and inspecting for defects. Regarding an ophthalmic lens, it would have been obvious to use the method of Bui to inspect any type of optical lens. Regarding placing the lens in a test fluid, it is well known in the art to immerse a specimen in a test fluid in order to ensure liquid coupling. Regarding inspecting the lens for defects, it would have been obvious to inspect the lens for defects in its thickness.

Regarding claims 13, delay line 30 comprises a sonotrode.

Regarding claims 14 and 17, note the above remark regarding claims 4 and 7.

Regarding claims 19, 20 and 24, it would have been obvious to use the device of Bui to measure the thickness of any type of optical lens, including contact lenses.

5. Claims 3, 5-6, 8, 12, 15-16, 21-23 and 25-26 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Browning et al. discloses an apparatus for ultrasonic cleaning and sterilization of soft contact lenses.
